THE DAILY AND WEEKLY HERALD has more than double the circulation of any other paper published in Southern California. Business men recognize it accordingly as the best advertising medium South of San Francisco.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1875.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The San Francisco police on Sunday morning at five o'clock made a descent on an opium den, arresting two white men, two white women and the two Chinese proprietors.

The loss of the Emily Farnum, on Destruction Island, is confirmed. Two of the crew were drowned and the cargo of railroad iron is a total loss.

We have further news of the Campo difficulty in our telegrams. It turns out to be a bad raid for the robbers, as they are nearly all killed or wounded.

General [unclear] was chosen Chairman of the Democratic Caucus yesterday.

The new officers of San Francisco were installed yesterday.

San Jose has had a shooting scrape, ending an attempt to kill a woman and an attempt of the would-be murderer to suicide.

A man named George Keyes was found in a dying condition in Guadalupe Creek, near San Jose.

Victor Henry, a young Frenchman, died suddenly at San Jose yesterday morning.

At the recent International Fruit Show in Edinburgh, Scotland, two monster bunches of grapes were exhibited, probably the largest ever grown. The bunch which took the first prize was of the Raisin de Calabre variety, was grown by G. Douglas, Esq. of Eskbank, Dalkeith, and weighed 26 pounds 4 ounces. Its rival was of the White Nica variety and weighed 25 pounds and 15 ounces. We look now to hear from Southern California that some of our enterprising viticulturists can exceed these prize bunches of Scotland.

Some of our extremely radical contemporaries are denouncing the appointment of Captain WADDELL, late of the Confederate navy, to the command of the P. M. S. S. City of San Francisco. This seems in bad taste as the war is over and the country is about uniting in a fraternal celebration of its greatness. Let the past be forgotten and let the brave men who fought for their respective political ideas meet and cement the Union into a stronger mass.

There is a growing disgust on the part of our citizens with the management of city affairs, and a desire is expressed either to have the city charter entirely repealed and return to county control or have the city managed by a board of three. We do not know that either of these propositions will be carried out, but unless the present municipal strife ceases we believe the tax-payers will gladly welcome the legislation that will wipe out the present expensive city government.

We urge our Chamber of Commerce to see that the lands of Los Angeles county are properly advertised with the San Francisco Immigration Bureau. Many are frightened away from Los Angeles by the bug-bear that all our lands are held by speculators at a high figure; when the fact is land can be obtained at any price desired. There is no place in the State where greater advantages are offered to immigrants, with or without capital, and we hope it will be properly represented at head-quarters.

There never was a greater display of confidence than that shown by the public for Temple & Workman's bank and we are pleased to see that it was justified, the bank re-opening yesterday. The Farmers' & Merchants' and the County Bank, in effect, were never closed, and the re-opening of Temple & Workman's Bank restores our financial matters to their old basis. This will be good news to the people of the county and in the general jubilee which follows the re-opening of Temple & Workman's Bank, the Farmers' & Merchants' and the County Bank will not be forgotten.

We regret to record in our local columns a fracas at the Third Ward polls, in which one candidate for Council, by his own story, had his shoulder broken, being first struck by a Councilman and then tripped up and thrown heavily to the ground. If his story is true, and it has not been denied, the whole fight is simply disgraceful. If this is to be the rule it will be necessary hereafter to insure in an accident company against the perils of running for office, and when a candidate goes to the polls he will require to take a tearful farewell of his family, make his will, commend his soul to Heaven, and then go forth to meet his foes in and out of office.

The threatened change of text books in the public schools is exciting the masses of our State. The general opinion is against the change, and if injunctions are necessary, it is to be hoped that every court in the State will put its bar on a change that will be such a drain on the people of the State. All school books are now of a high standard and it does not make so much difference which publisher's productions are used, and when the public witness the bitter fight among book agents it suggests, at least, a possibility of there being a large profit in the proposed change, and a shadow of corruption on the part of the State. We believe in making education cheap and hence oppose all changes of text books that add to the expenses of parents, unless there be some great gain to education.

Immigration and the Centennial.

We had a call yesterday from Mr. I. G. GARDNER, assistant manager of the San Francisco Immigration Bureau, who is here examining our resources with a view to giving an intelligent report to inquiring immigrants. Mr. GARDNER is also on the Centennial Board and takes a lively interest in having California well represented at Philadelphia next year. In this matter Los Angeles is as largely interested as any portion of the State and immediate attention to our immigration matters, and a proper representation at the Centennial is making great exertions to have Los Angeles and vicinity properly represented and it is the duty of all our citizens to aid him in the good work. Mr. GARDNER is ready to co-operate with Governor DOWNEY on Centennial matters and with our whole section on immigration matters and we recommend him cordially to the Chamber of Commerce and people generally, hoping that some systematic effort may be made on immigration as well as Centennial affairs.

The Gay and Festive Dingman

Free Love in Los Angeles—A Cigar Dealer's amours—Lovers' Promenade around the Cemetery—A strange Trysting Place—Toy Pistols and Revolvers—The Cigar Dealer takes the First Steamer—Australia the Objective Spot—Good-bye Dingman and Lady.

D. J. Dingman is his name, and he, until recently, kept the Indian Queen cigar store under the Backman House. He was tall and sallow and had the reputation of wearing the biggest gun-boats in town, but that did not prevent him walking into the affections of Mrs. Allen, another free-lover of the Dingman stamp. We should premise our little story by stating that Dingman had a wife, a faithful woman, who has aided him in his business by every effort a loving heart could suggest. Early and late she has been a faithful attendant in the cigar store. When Dingman was at his meals the faithful wife was to be seen at the Indian Queen watching their joint tobacco stock. It was the old story of man's unfaithfulness and in a little while other ladies began to attract the eye of the yearning Dingman. A sly-like form, a youthful face, a roguish eye attracted the wandering Dingman. By some means he introduced a young woman of the fast order into his house. At first the improprieties were only caresses and parental embraces on the part of the amorous vendor of cigars. Finally the girl of the period would meet the gay and festive Dingman at the gate, but the turning point was reached when the faithless husband asked his wife to cut the frail devil's hair. The faithful wife could not stand any longer; it was bad enough for the short-haired girl to seat her husband's affections, but to ask her to curl this girl's hair, to make her more attractive to her own liege lord, was too much, and the girl went. This would seem to have been enough, but no, Dingman, unfortunately, met the gushing Mrs. Allen, and was at once captivated. This scandal culminated last Sunday, when Mrs. Dingman's sister met the faithless Dingman and Mrs. Allen wandering around among the ravines near the cemetery. She exercised a woman's privilege and roughly abused her sister's husband, which so aroused the valorous Dingman that he drew his revolver, and, but for the interference of his paramour, might have killed his sister-in-law. After this occurrence Mr. Strauss, Mr. Dingman's brother-in-law, presented for Dingman's signature a transfer of his interest in the cigar stand, which he signed with a very bad grace. On Sunday night Dingman told a friend that he was going to Australia by sailing vessel, but, be that as it may, the steamer list yesterday shows that D. J. Dingman and lady (?) left for San Francisco. We can only say good bye, Dingman, and if Australia proves any more congenial to your tastes it is to be hoped you will stay there.

Re-opening of Temple & Workman's Bank.

On Sunday morning at six o'clock a stage arrived with the precious gold which was to re-establish Temple & Workman's in its secure basis. The amount ranged away up in the six figures and the stage was guarded by detectives, armed with savage-looking shot guns, deadly Henry rifles and Colt's revolvers. Of course that solitary road agent of Calcutta renown did not capture this load and Los Angeles was rejoiced by its arrival. Yesterday morning at an early hour an immense crowd besieged Temple & Workman's doors, all in good humor and jubilant over the termination of the financial embargo. At ten o'clock the doors opened and, when the crowd saw Mr. Temple standing behind his counter, smiling pleasantly as he stood flanked by piles of gold, a hearty cheer went up which meant encouragement to the bank and confidence in Los Angeles. Very few checks were presented, but the crowd in its good humor was cheered by the ex-attalaute Mr. T. E. Gaskill, his gentlemanly cashier, Mr. Ledyard. During the day the crowd thronged the doors in the best of humor, seeming to welcome the re-opening as a harbinger of prosperity to Los Angeles city and county.

State Certificates.

We notice the HERALD of December 5th, that certain candidates for Teachers' Certificates at the recent examination, are recommended by the Board, or by some one connected therewith, as entitled to receive State Certificates.

Now we would ask, what right, a County Board, or any of its connections, has to thus recommend any candidate. It is, certainly, not required by statute to do so—and the doing so, looks like a piece of assumption and arrogance. It would seem that some persons do not estimate themselves aright.

HUMILITY.

A dispatch from Santa Monica announces the arrival there yesterday of the schooner Eureka with lumber to Lucas Bros.

CALIENTE, Dec. 6.—The following passengers for Los Angeles left on the Telegraph Stage Line to-day: J Schrein, A Seymour, Mrs Lee and Miss Lee, and C W Wheaton.

San Francisco News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6th.—The first raid under the new ordinance against white persons who frequent opium dens was made at 2 o'clock this morning by a force of police under Captain Douglass and Detective Rogers. They made a descent on the premises at No. 609 Dupont street, and arrested Faninis, Whitmore, Con, Martinez, Jas. Dunnington, Charles Anderson, and two Chinamen who kept the place. The lowest fine under the ordinance is fifty dollars. The police intend to continue their raids until the growing evil is suppressed.

Telegrams have been received from Portland confirming the loss of the bark Emily Farnum, a cargo of railroad iron, from this port to Departure Bay. The bark was driven on Destruction Island on the night of the 18th, in a gale and snow storm. The heavy sea stove the boats. An hour after the bark struck the after-house broke in two. The top of the after-house lodged on the rocks, the crew climbing to it. The chief officer and four men were swept off by the heavy sea. The chief officer and two men were rescued. Jno. Hooglin, a native of Sweden, and the Chinese steward were drowned. The remaining fourteen clung to the top of the after-house till morning, when a seaman named Thos. McGill swam to the main island with a line, and a raft was rigged and all went to the island from which they were taken to Indians, making their way to Gray's harbor, where Captain Austin, Chief Officer Moffett and two men remained. The remainder of the crew with Second Officer Reed arrived at Astoria last evening. Captain Bulles of the Ajax tendered the shipwrecked mariners passage to San Francisco. The bark was valued at $25,000, and insured for $21,600.

Suter, alias Harrington, the desperado who a few days ago attempted to murder and rob Charles Lindrum the broker's clerk at Palace Hotel, attempted suicide about 4 o'clock this morning in a cell he had fastened his handkerchief about his neck, tied the other end to the gas bracket and allowed his body to hang by the neck. The cell was not high enough to admit of strangulation in this manner, but Harrington would have succeeded had it not been for the presence of the man Schaadt, the burglar, who was placed in Harrington's cell as a precaution.

A man named McQuarry, a hostler, endeavored to commit suicide last evening by taking a dose of poison.

A dispatch from Eureka, Humboldt county, reports the drowning of Capt. B. of the schooner Fairy Queen, which sailed home on the 27th. Capt. B. was swept overboard as the schooner was crossing the bar, entering Humboldt bay.

Most of the new county officers were installed at noon to-day, the Chief of Police taking possession with ceremonies of speaking, taking champagne, shaking hands, &c.

The steamer Gallie arrived from China and Japan yesterday, three days behind time. She brings the usual cargo of live Chinamen, but no news. The detention was caused by a typhoon in mid-ocean.

Patrick Riley was garroted and robbed of $500 on Folsom street Saturday evening by two men. One of them, named Mick Hunt, was arrested on the spot. Yesterday the other who gives the name of Pat. Enright, was taken by the police.

The Campo Raid.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 5th.—A Frenchman by the name of Pierro Etchart, in the employ of S. B. Inda, a sheep man 12 miles from Campo, arrived this evening with a revolver ball in his shoulder. He says he was coming up to Gaskell's store after his mail at the moment the robbery commenced. He was met by a Mexican a short distance from the store, who ordered him to dismount. He asked him what was the matter, to which the Mexican said, "No difference; get down;" which he did. Just then another Mexican came up from behind and shot him in the shoulder. They then took his horse and left. He took off his heels and made for his camp. About 4 o'clock this morning one of the wounded robbers crawled into the station almost frozen. The Doctor says it is impossible for him to live. He is terribly wounded.

The Mexican, supposed to have been friendly, was found to be one of the gang and the sheriff has him in irons. His wounds are not serious. He has not told any different story as regards his connection with the robbers. The inquest and to-day on the body of the robber who was killed found that he came to his death in the hands of Simeon Gaskill in self defense. The party who went in pursuit returned this evening, having failed to find any trace of the robbers, but it is thought they struck across through Starvation valley to Lone Hunter.

Mr. Gonzales, the alcalde who lives just over the line, will start with another party in search of the three robbers who got away, we are certain two of them are wounded. Mr. Gaskill's condition is very comfortable and his case is hopeful. Sheriff Hunsaker arrived at Campo this morning and telegraphed that all is quiet, and we have a majority of the robbers and joined them.

A dispatch from Campo at 9 o'clock this morning says another of the wounded robbers crawled up to the station this morning and gave himself up. He is supposed to be mortally wounded. The surgeon arrived during the night. Mr. Gaskill is comfortable and his case is hopeful. Sheriff Hunsaker arrived at Campo this morning and telegraphed that all is quiet, and we have a majority of the robbers and joined them.

POEM.

BY J. L. CLOUGH.

Home is the sweetest place on earth—
No other can be found,
Like that sweet place that gave us birth;
Search the wide world around.

The ancient house and hovel rude,
The woodland and the glen;—
All yield the sweets of solitude,
Unknown by bustling men.

The thought of such places glee
To every heart;—
There is no bairn, gay and free—
The sweetest, purest, best;

The sailor on the hoary sea,
And soldier on the plain;
Think of their native homes with pride,
Though ne'er seen again.

The great may claim their stately halls,
The used by p'rish'd;—
They still may have the sculptured walls—
Give me my simple, snug—

The thoughts of earth, earthy sway—
Great fancies, "far and wide,"—
Great follies joy—a dying day—
Will humble human pride.

The gay may chase their phantoms long,
The ride may careless roam—
Give me the mountain wild's song,
And my dear, native—Home.

To Bee Men.

Some time ago we requested the bee-keepers of Los Angeles county to send their names and addresses to the HERALD. The request elicited a number of inquiries, and for the benefit of parties interested we publish the following note:

EDITOR HERALD: Will you please mail us an old or new number of your paper? We want to look at the advertising rates, and get at the honey raids & shipper, with a view of placing their goods direct to the retail trade, and save two or more middlemen's profits, as we are in the midst of the best retail grocery trade. This will place us under obligations to you, &c. Very respectfully yours,

STROUT & CONKLIN,
44 Harrison street, New York.

The seats for the new Fort street M. E. church, arrived yesterday. They were manufactured to order by the Sterling Manufacturing Company of Springfield, Ill. They are models of neatness and elegance and are said to be the most comfortable in use. The carpet for the church is on its way from San Francisco and is expected to arrive to-day. Four hundred and sixty yards are required to carpet the auditorium throughout. It is of heavy body Brussels and will give the church a finished appearance. It is expected that the work of furnishing will be soon completed so that the edifice may be dedicated a week from next Sunday when the Rev. Mr. Jewell of the Central M. E. church of San Francisco will officiate.

Our friend J. W. Stackpole, has assumed a position behind the counter at the Pico House, and we congratulate Messrs. Swales & Cuyas on the acquisition of such a capable clerk. We predict that Mr. Stackpole will bring a host of friends to the Pico. Passengers Coming.
